Where local people and local businesses meet

Recruitment doesn't have to be all about making money. At Blackpool Council, we're committed to improving the lives of local people and supporting our local businesses at the same time.

Our business model focuses on bringing local people, keen to get back to work, together with local businesses looking for reliable staff and willing to offer a 'leg-up' onto the employment ladder.

Why not offer an unpaid work placement to one of our candidates to make sure they're right for your businesses before you take them on as a temp?

Our consultants are on hand to work with you every step of the way to make sure you get the right people.
